"Too young to realize that we're old
 . enough to know better"

Seniors at last! And soon we shall be independent men and women.

As our minds wander over our school days, we realize that the teachers have seldom appreciated our efforts to grasp the knowledge that the Board of Education intended should be ours.

With the exception of Hughie Holler who was not fortunate enough to be with this "dignified" class in the seventh grade, we have had a hard time living down the reputation that the teachers built up for us then.

Now that we have come up in the world, even to the front door of our school, the teachers no longer look at us as if that loathsome name, "rats", really fitted; but they gaze upon our sober and intelligent faces and sigh as if to say, "It grieves me to think that next year we shall not have the pleasure of teaching this fine group of men and women, who have really been a credit to the school. I know they cannot be surpassed by any incoming class."

As we go forth into the world of this Atomic Age, equipped with the knowledge that has been drilled and pounded into our heads, we wonder how the world is going to use so many "Einsteins" at one time. May we turn our minds to the serious purpose of building a better world.

SENIOR CLASS PROPHECY

It was at our Gypsy Costume Dance, where I acted the part of a gypsy fortune teller, that I first discovered that I had the gift of prophecy. When I was selected as class prophet, I decided to try my powers of reading the future in the crystal ball.

As I gaze into the ball I concentrate all my thoughts on the year 1962. Soon I begin to see figures moving towards me - and strange to relate, I see to be able to read their thoughts and, in a flash, to understand all that has happened to them during the fifteen years following their graduation from Parry McCluer High School in 1947.

First, I see Jimmy Page, who enjoyed so much being judge at the trial of Curtis Floyd at graduation, that he decided to study law and make a career of it. He is now a distinguished judge of the local Federal District Court.

We little thought when Bobby Riegert was president of the Senior Class that he someday would be the Junior Senator from Virginia. Of course, the Parry McCluer alumni voted for him as they did in high school.

Marion Seay is now a well-known singer of the Metropolitan Opera company in New York. She still enjoys singing for us over the radio some popular songs we all used to love in high school days.

Lewis Wagner became so interested in electricity while studying Physics in high school that he is now chief electrocutioner at the Federal Penitentiary at Atlanta, Georgia. On the artistic side, he is known all over the country for his much loved comic strip, "Bringing up Great Grampap."

Remember "Introducing Susan" when June Scott played the part of the real Susan? Since then she has become an actress on Broadway.

Phyllis Brantley was so much in sympathy with the high school boys' lack of transportation that she is now the owner and operator of a new bus line to Cornwall for their benefit.

Charlotte Burford has accepted a position as librarian at William and Mary College.

Davies Burks is a good example of the "small town boy who makes good." He has just been made manager of Graybill's new department store.

Grades in Geometry at the Southern Seminary have surely been improving lately. Wonder if Sam Burks' being the new geometry instructor could be having anything to do with this?

Lucille Wheeler has, at last, married an old rich man. She has just donated $50,000 to the new school building.

Sheldon Davidson is now a building contractor. He has just finished the second new addition to the Parry McCluer School.

Marion Coleman is married to a Frenchman and is living in Paris. Her French has certainly served her to good advantage.

Mary Ann Eggleston, who for a good many years has been head nurse in the hospital located on Mapp's Hill, will soon be the new Welfare Director of Buena Vista.

Kenneth Hickman is helping Charles Atlas to make boys into men by giving them muscular training.

Elsie Huffman is now Chief of Police in Buena Vista since her Uncle Bernard has resigned.

During high school days we thought Betty Lee Jennings was too lazy to accomplish much, but you ought to see how she steps around as a waitress at Royer's Restaurant.

Girls! Tune in every evening at 7:15 to hear Margaret Lanum in her new serial "Sylvia's Only Love", advertising Blushing Bride Beauty creme.

Joe Ed McGahey is a civil engineer. He has just finished helping complete the Pan American Highway.

Hinks Rinker, one of our baseball stars during high school days, has accepted the position as manager of the New York Yankees.

Arlene Rowsey is so devoted to children that she is teaching kindergarten in Chicago.

Joyce Sale, the ideal farmer's wife, is married and residing near Riverside with Bannie and her twins.

Since Betty Jane Humphreys was so energetic in her high school days, she has now become the physical education director at the new school. Her basketball girls have just defeated Lexington 64-0.

Johnny Secrist has been on a vacation since he graduated fifteen years ago. He is hunting and fishing and taking life easy.

Mary Alice Spangler and Melvin are living in Glasgow on a turkey farm.

Those of you who take the Buena Vista News may read Evelyn Slough's column in which she gives her advice to the "lovelorn".

Edith Sorrels and Chester (Buddy) Green have been joined together in holy matrimony and are now the proud parents of two boys and a girl..

Wallace McGahey, who studied science for four years in high school and four years in college, has at last discovered a means of controlling the Atomic bomb.

Madeline Huffman is a policewoman with the F. B. I. She has just finished helping to break up a gambling joint in Washington.

Helen Austin is in ecstasy over her first real love affair.

Curtis Floyd and Elsie Lee are married, and Curtis has just purchased Mitchell's Meat Market.

Lewis Gilbert is managing the Brooklyn Dodgers and has just married Dana Lurner. It seems as if he is following in the footsteps of another famous Brooklyn Dodger manager, Leo Durosher.

Hughie Holler, an outstanding Herndon farmer, has just discovered a way of growing two stalks of corn where one grew before. He will probably be the next Secretary of Agriculture.

SENIOR CLASS WILL

On this the sixth day of June, nineteen hundred and forty-seven, we, the Senior Class, being in full possession of all our mental faculties, do hereby devise, will, bequeath and convey our various earthly possessions, both tangible and intangible, as follows:

I, Joe Ed McGahey, will my special corner on the porch at Southern Seminary to Nimrod Lawrence.

I, June Scott, leave a pair of glasses to Donald Pelter, so he won't stumble over every one in the halls next year.

I, Betty Jane Humphreys, will my ability to cook to Marguerite Floyd, since it looks as if she will need it before I do.

I, Marion Seay, will my ability to get along with number 99 during football season to Petie Balser. I hope she will have more success in keeping him away from the Seminary than I have.

I, Ebby Slough, will my position as Cheerleader to Sue Wilson.

I, Lucille Wheeler, leave a full year's supply of bubble gum to my good friend, Ruth Huffman, so that she will come back to school next year.

I, Madeline Huffman, leave my ability to squeeze through the halls to Les, Jr.

I, Betty Lee Jennings, leave my ability to behave in school to Bobby Foster.

I, Hinks Rinker, leave my ability to spell to Billy Lewis. I want him to remember particularly that the way to spell crocheting is k-r-o-w-s-h-a-y-i-n-g.

I, Mary Ann Eggleston, will my long fingernails to Glendene Cash. May she be as proud of them as I have been.

I, Sheldon Davidson, will my ability to work Basic Math to Lois Seay in hopes that someday she will be able to work her own problems.

I, Marion Coleman, leave my ability to write articles, to the Beta Club, so that their editorials will improve.

I, Joyce Sale, leave an ermine wrap to next year's football queen, so she won't freeze during the ceremonies.

I, Arlene Rowsey, leave my ability to play softball to Laverne Glass.

I, Jimmy Page, will my ability to score so many points (1) in football to some promising young center.

I, Bobby Riegert, leave my ability to play basket ball (without a ball) in English Class to Tot Coleman.

I. Lewis, Gilbert, leave my ability to hit home runs to Warren Goolsby.

I, Kenneth Hickman, will my privilege of sleeping in Government class to Carl Harris.

I, Wallace McGahey, leave my ability to draw in class to David Basham.

I, Phyllis Brantley, will my ability to dance to Lewis McCormick.

I, Margaret Lanum, leave my habit of being late to school every morning to Nancy Cunningham.

I, Lewis Wagner, leave Dallas Seay "lonesome".

I, Mary Alice Spangler, leave my secret for getting a husband and a new car at the same time to Margie Floyd.

I, Hugh Hollar, will my ability to make good grades in Government class without ever taking the book home, to Billy Wagner.

I, Edith Sorrells, will my ability to speak French to anyone that takes it next year.

I, Curtis Floyd, just leave.

I, Elsie Huffman, will some of my size to Bobby Dyson so that he can be as big as he acts.

We, Helen Austin and Davies Burks, leave jointly our ability to get away with "murder" in Geography class to Leon Thacker, who always gets caught.

I, Sam Burks, leave my ability to "hang on to the bitter end" to Maynard Decker.

I, Johnnie Secrist, will my ability to grow a mustache to Dan Henson.

I, Charlotte Burford, will to Betty Lee Toms the ability to get along with Calvin as well as I have with Hundley.

All the rest and residue of our property, whatsoever and wheresoever, of what nature, kind, and quality it may be, and not herein already disposed of, we give and bequeath to our faculty for their use and benefit, or to be disposed of for the good of the coming classes as they may see fit.

HEY, JUNIORS--

Remember when:

We felt so proud because we had become upper classmen?

The Band went to the Veteran's Hospital in Roanoke and to Lakeside?

We thought we had to study Chemistry in order to pass it? Oh, how naive we were then!

The workmen started hammering on the walls of dear old homeroom No. 4?

Mrs. Seay showed movies to the Latin II class down in Room 7?

The football team won all the games but one?

We were so disappointed because we couldn't have the Junior-Senior prom at Natural Bridge?

Petey Catlett drove Billy Lewis to Charlottesville to have his leg x-rayed?

We had the first dress rehearsal of the Junior Play? (Or any rehearsal, for that matter!)

Hughie sang the "Anniversary Song" at Glee Club practice? Swoon!!!

Bobby Dyson didn't go to sleep in History III?

We were known as the Thundering Herd?

Jeanne, Lois, and Billy W. attended the Beta Convention at Richmond?

We had a Health Day pageant for the first time in five years?

We sat in Geometry class and counted the bricks in the new building?

Shiflett got married?

And we'll remember moving into the new building as Seniors in the fall of 1947. (We HOPE!)

ON BEING A SOPHOMORE

Sophomores are foolish-wise,
A curious group of gals and guys;
Wisely now we happily play;
Foolishly we study - another day.

The word "sophomore" is derived from two Greek words meaning "wise" and "foolish". Most of us had rather appear foolish than wise, or that seems to be how we impress others. We have our serious moments, but we don't like to be seen in one of these.

When we were freshmen the upper-classmen called us "rats". How we longed to return the "compliment". We now thoroughly enjoy calling the present freshmen "rats".

One of our most annoying habits - that is to grownups - is that of giggling. We giggle at almost anything, for no matter what people say we can make a joke of it. (And do we have fun!)

Chewing gum is another habit we have. (And blessed are those who can get bubble gum.) Mr. Kling gave us a talk on this in assembly. He showed us just how we looked while chewing. At the time at least half of us had gum, and we were just chewing away! I'll assure you that this was one time when we felt embarrassed.

We study sometimes, believe it or not, though we don't like to be caught at it. And we are proud to have a few from our class in the Beta Club. This is one goal a lot more of us hope to reach later on in high school.

Most of us sophomores have no regular jobs, so we can loaf while we watch the upper-classmen slaving over soda fountains and counters. How we love to make them wait on us. We have our favorite places to go, and we usually end up in Shirey and Brown. There we sit and talk over a Pepsi for some time, and the grim looks on the faces of the clerks would kill anybody but us. (We just ignore them.)

At the beginning of school we had lots of fun at the pep meetings. For once we didn't make as much noise as we were supposed to. (Well, anything to find fault.) We have also enjoyed the school dances this year. We now think we really know how to dance, whether anyone agrees with us or not.

It is a great life - this being a sophomore, and I suppose this year will linger in our memories as one of the best years of our lives. I'm sure we'll never forget the wonderful times we've had as "silly sophomores".

A FRESHMAN'S IMPRESSIONS OF HIGH SCHOOL

Way back in May, nineteen hundred and forty-six, I counted the days to the "Big Moment" - that of entering HIGH SCHOOL. When that day arrived, hot and typical of September, I was stopped by the head of the household to take off a first layer of the new "Forever Amber" lipstick and change the red bobby socks to white and the green frilled taffeta skirt to a summer print.

Feeling my importance, I went to the front door. There I did not find the expected sign with "Welcome to '46 Freshmen", but I did find closed doors, so I had to go to the back.

Upon reaching my homeroom, I faced a cool, matter-of-fact teacher, who, I am sure, could not tell whether I was cross-eyed or the blue-eyed freshman siren I had dreamed about being.

To add to my deep disappointment, the blond idol of all freshman girls in his plaid shirt did not seek me out the first week and demand my attendance at all high school dances. (I guess nature never intended my size 9 loafers for a dance floor. When I visualize myself jitterbugging with my idol, I see instead a sort of plaid-skirted octopus with extra-long legs dangling.) "

My pre-freshman ideas of a wonderful high school career were further dented the first few months when we discovered that part of our initiation would be singing. I glued on a pair of artificial eyelashes and practiced a love song for days. A poor freshman's hopes were crushed when not a single upper classman swooned. I also suffered drops in my eyes every hour to stop the batting I had hoped would capture a few dozen hearts.

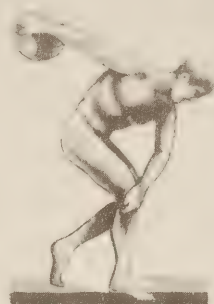

My first serious impressions (after my romantic ideas were dimmed) concerned the needs of our school. We need a gymnasium, a modern Home Ec. Department, (I still have a few more romantic dreams) and better equipment for sports for all grades. I especially want a gymnasium, for ten dollars looks like a thousand dollars to a freshman to pay for one night's dancing, especially if that freshman isn't a female "Astaire". We also need a larger library with more books, which will be available to us at all times.

Despite the disadvantages our school has, we have many advantages, and I am convinced that we freshmen aren't making the most of the opportunities our school is offering us.

- A Deflated Freshman.
